Background:

The contract between GruCom and its radio partners which includes Alachua County for radio services expired on September 30, 2020. In the fall of 2020, radio participants from Alachua County, UF Police Department, the City of Gainesville and Gainesville Regional Utilities (GRU) met on five occasions to negotiate methodologies of cost allocations. On January 4, 2021, GruCom sent a demand letter to Alachua County and unilaterally directed terms and conditions of a contract and threatened to remove the County from the radio system if full annualized payment was not received within 45 days of an invoice. Later, Alachua County Staff learned that similar letters had been issued to the University of Florida, Santa Fe College and the cities of Alachua, High Springs and Newberry.

As a result of GruCom's threat to cut off the County's ability to utilize the public safety radio system, the County Commission unanimously adopted Resolution 2021-01 to initiate the Chapter 164 Florida Statutes Florida Governmental Conflict Resolution Act on January 5th along with a Chair letter to City Mayor Lauren Poe.

On April 27, 2021 and May 6th, 2021 both governments signed resolutions to resolve the Public Safety Radio System dispute. This agreement stipulates the conditions of an agreement through FY 21 and pathway to negotiate, "a long-term partnership agreement with consideration of fair and equitable allocations of all system costs over that longer term."
