Background:

The FY 2017 (2017 - 2020) Project leveraged the resources of the grant, resulting in a comprehensive process analysis of the criminal justice and behavioral health intersect in Alachua County. This study resulted in a Strategic Plan presented to and accepted by the Public Safety Coordinating Council and JMHCP partners. A second primary effort of the initial grant developed a strong collaboration between the criminal justice system, law enforcement agencies, hospitals, and behavioral health providers.

Grant 2 is a cumulative award of $1,135,144 (Federal $729,639, County/ Meridian/ Gainesville Police Department $405,505) over a three year period. The new Project is designed to build upon this platform to deepen the collaborative efforts of the partners to better serve those living with mental illness who are risk for or come into contact with the criminal justice system. Through the grant from BJA and local support, the Project has developed an executive oversight sub-committee including members of the PSCC and community stakeholders. The grant has also developed a Coordination Team made up of behavioral health stakeholders, law enforcement, and researchers designed to carry out the day to day efforts.

The teams developed in grant 1 represent a comprehensive group of stakeholders which have committed personnel and resources to the JMHCP vision which will continue through grant 2. The Executive PSCC JMHCP Oversight Sub-Committee was created as a result of the Strategic Plan developed and includes the Alachua County Sheriff, Gainesville Police Department Chief of Police, Judicial, State Attorney, Public Defender, Meridian Behavioral CEO, UF Health Psychiatric CEO, North Florida Regional Medical Center CEO, Alachua County Commissioner, and National Alliance on Mental Illness President. The Operational team includes invested leadership from Gainesville Police Department, Alachua County Sheriff's Office, Meridian Behavioral, University of Florida Police Department, National Alliance on Mental Illness, UF Health Shands Psychiatry, North Florida Regional Medical Center, Veterans Administration, DCF Forensics, Co-Responder teams, ACSO Department of the Jail, ACSO DOJ Medical, Research Consultants, Florida Department of Corrections, and Court Services Data / Programmers.

Performance measures include seeking to aim for the Stepping Up Initiative's "Set, Measure, Achieve" goals of 5% annual reduction in average daily jail population. 10% annual reduction in jail bookings, 5% annual reduction in average length of jail stay, 10% annual increase in post-release connections to care, and 5% annual reduction in recidivism. By setting prevalence reduction targets, measuring progress, and achieving results, participating counties can help advance the national movement to reduce incarceration among people with mental illnesses. The CO-Responder Teams in operation since 2016 have shown a high value in the reduction of Jail admissions in the 80-95% averages. The Peer Specialists will be tasked with assisting peers increase connections to referred treatment and their Criminal Justice episode successfully.

Grant 2 makes possible the addition of a 2nd co-responder model (law enforcement officer and clinician ride along model to respond to mental health related calls) to the community and forensic peer specialists to provide in/ outreach. The focus of these staff will be on helping peers who are also clients in the criminal justice system while also guiding them through the legal processes with light case management as needed. Grant cycle 2 operationalized on May 10th, 2021 following a six month delay occasioned by BJA's slow grants management system start-up. The County's plan for Grant 2 also focuses on building on its wide array of partners to better coordinate care between the systems involved. Coordination between agencies and disciplines will be enhanced via JMHCP in efforts to create familiarity and open communication through regular meetings and developing a platform for effective discussion and problem solving. Memorandums of Understanding and Business Associate Agreements will be developed at the onset of the Project to define expectations with additional partners for data sharing and collaboration. This effort is intended to leverage the current resources more efficiently and effectively for the benefit of all involved and improve coordination across the criminal justice and behavioral health systems. The greatest benefit will be to reduce the silo effect which was found in the process analysis as currently inhibiting full expression of the potential of the significant countywide resources.
